Experts from construction industries are also expected to deliver as a part of the course.

SHORT TERM COURSE

India is witnessing very interesting projects in all sectors of infrastructure development. The construction techniques and innovative applications are the need of the day in enduring a sustainable approach in the Infrastructural development. Technology and innovations have fueled the evolution of the fourth industrial revolution (Industry 4.0). Industry 4.0 spurs growth and development through its efficiency capacity, as documented in the literature. The growth of the construction industry is a subset of the universal set of the value of gross domestic product, and thus, industry 4.0 has a spillover effect on the engineering and construction industry. This short term course lays emphasis on mapping the state of Industry 4.0 in the construction industry from the point of view of managerial activities and other technological developments.

OBJECTIVES

The main objective of the course is to disseminate recent trends in the field of Civil Engineering and focuses on emerging research areas in different domains of construction techniques and innovative applications.

- To create an awareness about the technical/research advancement in the field of construction.
- To impart knowledge in relevant fields pertaining to Civil Engineering.
- To develop the participants with a professional mindset in their areas of research.
- To avail the knowhow of the latest software's in the construction fields.
- To apprise the participants about the failures and remedies in the construction field.
